

Lycium barbarum

PRINCESS TAO® 'FPW03'

A goji of French genetic of easy maintenance and with sugary sweet berries

Flowering starts at the end of May and continues all over summer, finally reaching the tips of its branches. Berries form rapidly. Ripe, they are beautifully shiny red bigger than those of the currently available market varieties. Sweet, not astringent, they can be eaten fresh or dried. The fruit production continues right into autumn. PRINCESS TAO® is of easy maintenance: little needs of water and strong mildew resistance.
