

RUBUS Tayberry

BOUNTY BERRY 'YANTAY'

A highly fructiferous tayberry

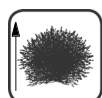

Bounty Berry, a cross between a blackberry and a raspberry, is a variety producing an extremely generous quantity of fruit. It has the flavour of raspberries and the vegetation of blackberries.

Fast-growing in spring, it should be tied to a support and can then be easily trained on a trellis. Its tasty fruits are like big, very long raspberries, violet-pink at maturity, in July and August.
