

Daphne odora ROGALSKI

An evergreen and brightly variegated foliage, highly fragrant flowers!

In February-March, Daphne odora brings interest to the garden with its pleasant and intense fragrance. All year round, this shrub lights up dark corners of the garden with its evergreen and variegated foliage, bright green with a yellow edge.

'Rogalski' is a very compact, naturally branched variety, particularly suitable for small gardens. Easy to grow, resistant to cold, it grows well in relatively cool and lime-free soils.

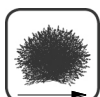

© SAPHO

Characteristics

0,80m

0,80m

02-03

5cm

-15°C

Season(s) of interest

Spring

Winter

Selected by

Przemyslaw Rogalski

Edition

Sapho

European P.B.R.

European plant variety protection

