

Spiraea betulifolia

PINK SPARKLER® 'COURISPI01'

The first Spiraea betulifolia dressed in pink

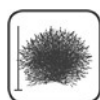

This Spiraea has a very compact growth like a dense pillow and a ground cover. It has bright light green foliage. This is the first selection of the Betulifolia species which coloured corymbs. It is generous in small light pink flowers during May-June; then, if it is cut back again after the first flowering, a second, somewhat lighter one follows at the end of summer.

A beautiful innovation in the small shrubs, perfectly adapted in very cold regions.
