

Hebe 'Celebration'

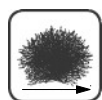

Resistant and highly ornamental.

Here is a resistant Hebe, easy to grow and highly ornamental with a bright evergreen foliage and very colourful flowers. Clusters of dark magenta flowers appear at the end of May and continue through the summer. The variegated foliage of dark green leaves with wide yellow margins form a small, well-branched dome-shaped shrub that has a tendency to spread with age. It makes an excellent shrub for a garden or patio, but has to be protected from frost in winter.
